CORPORATE GOLF

Corporate golf days are a great way to improve your business relationships while enjoying a relaxing and educational golf experience.

Hosting a golf event is considered a standard business practice employed by companies around the world. Providing your guests with a memorable time while being able to discuss important business matters is a unique part of golf that makes it such an important business tool.

Whether you're entertaining guests from abroad or local businesses, you must choose the right golf club in order to impress and satisfy your guests. Meticulously planned and crafted by Greg Norman and his team, Stonecutters Ridge is a 6,328 metre, par 72 course and is surrounded by natural meanderings of Eastern Creek and native bushland. Impressive water features, challenging greens and bunkers to test and dare even the best, Stonecutters Ridge offers a world class course that will impress.

Our experienced Tournament Coordinator has gained proficiency in anticipating clients needs and will work with you in all stages of the event, including planning, organization, execution and completion with all round attention to details.
